Course Content

Course Description:

Students will gain knowledge and skills enabling them to initiate and participate in community development endeavors in their role as community rehabilitation practitioners and in their personal communities. The course will include readings, discussions, activities, and assignments on social action and community development theory, models, issues and practices, both nationally and internationally. The content and activities will be in keeping with community development and practice and that effective interpersonal skills are critical to successful community development work.

Participants in the course will engage in collaborative activity that mirrors community development work. They will engage in a group process that utilizes their knowledge, experience and ability to complete assignments. By course end, participants will have a higher level of awareness regarding community issues and be better able to engage in social action that addresses inequities within our local and global communities. A key element of more effective social action engagement will be the ability to demonstrate improved interpersonal communication techniques (strategies for working effectively with diverse groups) and a higher level understanding of group dynamics problem solving.

Details of Assignments

1. Application of theory to community leader presentations

Value = 10%

This assignment asks you to apply theory learned in class to the work of two community leaders who will present in class (5% for each presentation).

For each presentation you will address the following:

- What is the community leader trying to address in her work? Is it one outcome or several outcomes?
- What are the strategies that she is utilizing to achieve the outcome(s)

- What theories are reflected in the strategies (locality development, social planning, social activism)? There could be one approach or a combination of approaches.

This assignment will be required the week following the presentations which are yet to be confirmed.

2. Research Paper

Value = 30%

Students will prepare a paper on a community leader or a social movement. Marking will be based on content and written presentation.

Content: Community Leader

- Summarize key biographical facts
- Identify issues that they were/are attempting to impact
- Discuss strategies used in their work
- Reflect on how you might use these ideas in your work (current or future)

Content: Social Movement

- Identify the issues that mobilized this movement
- Describe organizing strategies used
- Describe social change achieved
- Reflect on how you might use these ideas in your work (current or future)

Written Presentation of Paper

- Clarity of thesis
- Flow of presentation
- Clarity of writing (including grammar and syntax)
- Adherence to APA Format

Due October 12th, 2007

3. Presentation on research paper

Value = 20%

Students will present on their Research. Presentations will be 15 minutes in length. Presentation should include an interactive component that challenges students to think about application to practice.

Students will be assessed as follows:

- Content
- Clarity
- Engagement of the Audience

Presentations will be scheduled for October 13th, 27th, and November 24th, 2007

4. Reflection on paper on community engagement opportunity

Value = 20%

Students will attend a community event that has the potential to engage community members. A paper on the event is to be submitted.

The paper will include:

- A summary of the event
- Discussion of the effectiveness of the event for community engagement.

Due November 23rd, 2007

5. Practical application paper

Value = 20%

Students will identify a community development issue and strategies to address the issue.

Students will be graded on the clear and concise framing of the community development issue, the quality of the strategies and the rationale for the suggested strategies.

Due December 7th, 2007
